

Petitioners succeed in calling for vote

BY TRACI BONNEY
The people have spoken — or rather, signed.

County Circuit Clerk Pam Metzler said Friday she had verified 1,755 signatures on petitions calling for a vote on the dockside gambling issue. To call the referendum, 1,500 were needed.

She said she received 15 counter-petitions from people wanting their names taken off the referendum petitions, and had 462 signatures she had not yet verified.

Metzler said she intends to have those signatures verified before the county Board of Supervisors meets Tuesday, when the board will set the election date. The board will most probably schedule the gambling vote for Dec. 4, the date of Waveland's general election.

People on both sides of the gambling debate seem glad that the issue is going to a vote. Proponent Charles Lambert, who owns Bay Cove Harbour and wants to build a gambling resort on his property adjoining the marina, said he is confident that county residents will vote in dockside gambling.

Lambert is the source of the counter-petitions that eliminated 15 names from the referendum petition. He said he started them because some petition signers told him they had misunderstood what they were signing and thought signing was necessary to bring dockside gambling to the area.

The Rev. Nathan Barber, an outspoken gambling opponent, said, "I'm glad the people of Hancock County are going to have the opportunity to vote on it."

He added that area residents will have to abide by and be accountable for the decision once the vote is cast.

Waveland mayoral forum reveals platform differences

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Contrasts in the four Waveland mayoral candidates surfaced as each answered questions from the audience following platform presentations at the October 23 political forum.

When asked if the mayor should remain head of the city utility department, Ward 4 Alderman and Democratic candidate Stella Frilot answered, "No, I will not accept both salaries."

Frilot expressed the need for an independent person to head the department, separating the positions, both currently held by Mayor John Longo.

Democratic candidates Longo and Russell Caldwell joined Republican candidate John Mason in agreeing the mayor should continue to head the department.

Longo explained, "It has been this way for 50 years, since (longtime Mayor) Garfield Lader's time."

Longo added he felt it was important for the mayor to be present for the day-to-day operations of the utility department and to set policy, rates, salaries and schedules.

Both Caldwell and Mason agreed the utility department should be run as the other city departments, and not be separated.

ASRM TESTING

Caldwell took a firm stand in opposition to the other three when he answered a question concerning proposed ASRM (Advanced Solid Rocket Motor) testing at Stennis Space Center.

Dupont warning signs in place, but not functioning

BY TRACI BONNEY

All the components of Dupont's early warning system are finally in place, but they all don't work.

The installation of warning signs last week completed the three-part system's setup, according to Gary Ruff, senior supervisor for safety, health and environment.

The two signs have been placed along Kiln-DeLisle Road and consist of lights and a warning for motorists to leave the area when the lights are flashing.

Another component consists of monitor radios placed in homes of the chemical plant's near neighbors. That part of the system was not functioning as well as expected at first. Some monitors on the fringes of "Zone 1", an area covering approximately a one-mile radius from the plant's processing center, were not receiving broadcasts properly.

However, now that the frequency the plant currently broadcasts messages on has been changed, along with the crystals in the radios, that problem has been solved, Ruff said.

The third part of the system, a warning siren for those in the immediate vicinity of the plant, works well — perhaps a little too well. "It's very loud, so we have to cut it off fast, or it becomes annoying," Ruff said.

The plant tested the complete system Wednesday. The siren and signs were activated, and the monitors' broadcast reception was tested.

When the test was run, plant officials discovered the roadside signs did not work.

"We don't know yet what went wrong," Ruff said Friday. "This was the first test for the signs. We couldn't test them earlier without activating the whole system."

Youth center still on task force agenda

BY TRACI BONNEY
If you're looking for a county youth center to spring up out of the ground within the next few months, don't.

However, if you're expecting the idea of a center to be pushed into a corner and buried, don't do that, either.

According to Gordon Boh and Bay St. Louis Mayor Edward Favre, the center has not been forgotten.

Boh, who is immediate past chairman of the Hancock County Youth Task Force, said the task force is beginning the process of applying for grants to fund the center.

The task force first needed to create its by-laws, become incorporated with the state and fill out the necessary tax forms for non-profit organizations.

Now that those steps have been taken, the force can turn its attention to other matters, including the youth center.

"The education committee is our most active one right now," Boh said. "While the youth center is important, education has been our top priority."

"Education" refers to teaching children and teens about those things that concern them and their well-being: drug abuse, pregnancy, sexually

Holiday treats

Many festivities planned for Halloween

BY TRACI BONNEY

In case all the decorations haven't made it obvious, it's that time of year again — Halloween.

As parents buy, create or pull out from the mothballs holiday costumes for themselves and their children, Coast schools, stores and libraries are gearing up to delight and frighten.

The City-County Public Library in Bay St. Louis is turning the children's story hour Wednesday, Oct. 31, into "A Halloween Party." The featured books will be A Dark Tale and Harry and the Terrible Whatzit.

Children attending the story hour are asked to wear costumes. They will also make a lantern creature, and will view a finger play, "The Five Little Pumpkins."

The Hancock North Central Elementary PTO will sponsor a Halloween carnival Tuesday, Oct. 30, 5-7 p.m., on the elementary football field. Activities will include a haunted house, costume contest for infants to sixth-graders, cake walk and grab bags. A refreshment stand will also be open.

Coast Episcopal Elementary School will hold its Halloween Fall Festival Oct. 31, 1-3 p.m., at the school. Students in kindergarten through sixth grade will memorize poems about Halloween, cats and other animals, and create masks and costumes to wear while reciting the poetry. They will also decorate pumpkins to look like teachers. The school's PTO will serve refreshments.

At the local stores, Wal-Mart will be giving free candy to children on Halloween, while Kmart will have treats for the children and a costume contest for store employees, with prizes being awarded.

In Biloxi Edgewater Mall will hold its annual trick-or-treat on Halloween. The event, sponsored by the Merchants Association, begins at 6 p.m. and ends at 8.

Along with trick-or-treating, the event will feature face-painting at the Community Booth from 5 to 8 p.m., and free

Safety is first concern for enjoyable Halloween

BY TRACI BONNEY

If you think something is wrong with your child's Halloween candy, take it to the hospital.

Hancock Medical Center and American Legion Auxiliary Post 139 are co-sponsoring a Halloween Safety X-Ray Program Wednesday, Oct. 31, from 7 to 9 p.m. Parents may take their children's candy to HMC during those hours, where it will be checked for metal objects such as razor blades or needles.

Jeanie Moran, head of the HMC x-ray department, said the program began several years ago, "mainly as a fun thing for the kids. They get excited about having their candy x-rayed."

After checking the candy, the volunteers give the x-rays to the children.

Moran was quick to say that the x-rays can detect only metal, and that if a parent suspects a piece of candy has been tampered with in some other manner, he or she should throw it away.

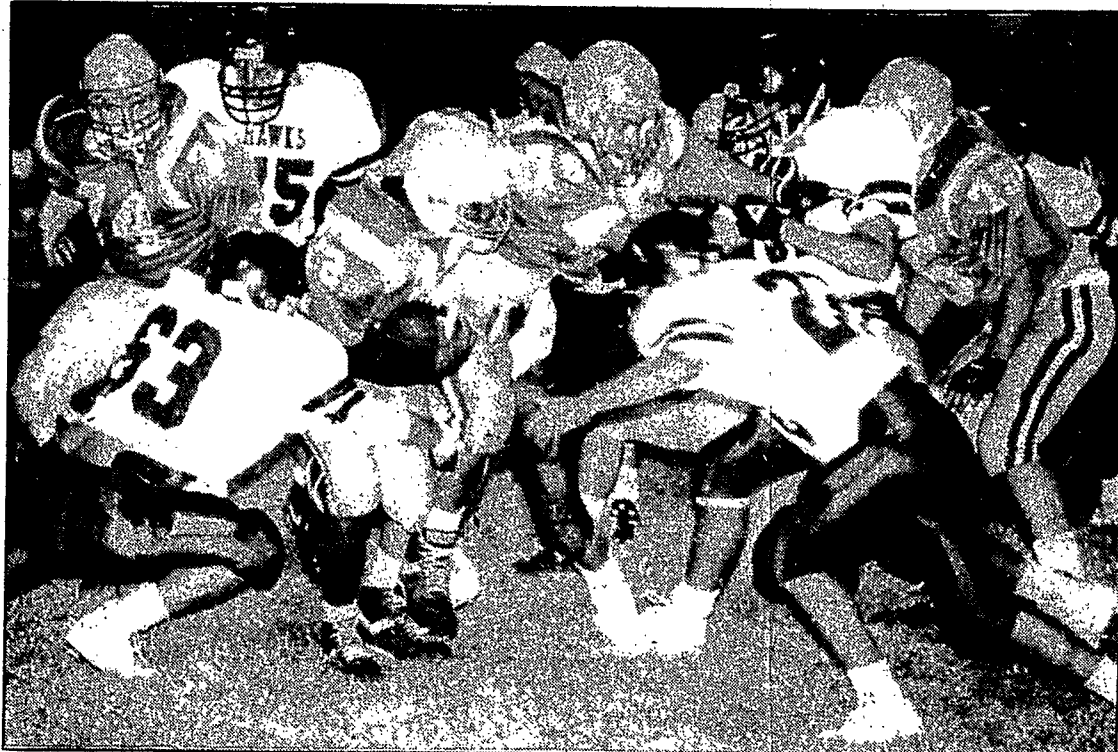

Mayor Edward Favre, speaking in behalf of the city, supported the safety program. He said, "This community takes its responsibilities to protect and provide for children very seriously. This effort by the HMC staff and management and the auxiliary is another example of everyone's commitment."

To further ensure a safe Halloween, Bay St. Louis Police Officer Don Osco offered the following safety tips for parents and children:

—Make sure the children carry a flashlight or wear some sort of reflective material on their costumes so that they can be seen by approaching vehicles when crossing the street.

—Children should not wear costume masks that block their vision in any way.

Mass was Celebrated Saturday at Riemann Funeral Home in Pass Christian. Burial was in Live Oak Cemetery, Pass Christian.

The family prefers memorials to St. Stephen Catholic Church in DeLisle.

Chapter I parent workshop is Tuesday

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Chapter I program will present a parent workshop, "Time-Out for Kids and Learning" at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 30, in the cafeteria, Bay Middle School.

Nell LaFrance, a reading consultant for D. C. Heath Publishing Company will offer parents suggestions on how to help their children "manage time wisely."

Babysitting services, refreshments and a book swap also will be available. For more information, call 466-4913.

Alternative School Assn. granted tax-exempt status

The Hancock County Alternative Schooling Association Inc. has been determined to be a tax-exempt organization by the Internal Revenue Service.

HCASA is now designated as an organization exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, and also as an organization described in Sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(ii) of the code. Further, HCASA is not subject to excise taxes under Chapter 42 of the code.

This means that HCASA may now seek, solicit and accept grants, contributions, donations, gifts, bequests, legacies, devisees, transfers, etc. which usually are deductible for federal income, gift, and estate tax purposes from public and private organizations as well as individual grantors and donors.

"We are hopeful by mid-summer 1991, HCASA will have been able to obtain adequate grant and other funding from federal, state, county and private grantors and donors to enable establishment of an excellent alternative (non-traditional) school for some 'at risk' students, grade levels seven through 12, next year," said Bertin C. Chevis MD, chairman, board of directors.

Halloween Story Hour planned at Bay library

"A Halloween Party" will be theme of this week's children's story hour at the City-County Public Library, Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis.

A Dark Tale and Harry and the Terrible Whatzit are the books that will be featured on Wednesday, Oct. 31 at 10:30 at the City-County Library. Children will make a lantern creature and will view a finger play, "The Five Little Pumpkins."

Children should wear costumes to this story hour to celebrate Halloween.

"Adventures" will be the theme of the Waveland Library's story hour Friday, Nov. 3 at 10:30 a.m.

Could Be Worse, The Train That Ran Away and The Camel Who Took A Walk are the books to be featured.

There will also be a participating story, and children will begin a paper bag puppet, along with Thanksgiving crafts. Color sheets will be handed out at this hour.

Weekly story hours are held at the City-County Public Library and the Waveland Library from September through May. Programs last approximately one hour.

Programs and activities are designed for pre-school age children three to five years old, who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group.

Further information is available by calling Sandra Ladner at the City-County Library at 467-5282, or Karen Peoples at the Waveland Library at 467-9240.

SENIOR CITIZENS HAPPENINGS

By Eve McDonald

Thanks for caring! Why doesn't the President?

So many of you called or stopped to tell me how unfair you felt the cuts that were handed down to us were. We think so too!

There is one difference in the way we handle problems like this at the local level—we start cuts at the top. Our Human Resource Board agreed to cut my time and salary 20 percent to save funds for the program. Then we cut a $3 lunch for the board lunch meeting. After cutting our expenditures, we looked to see what else we could trim without hurting the most vulnerable.

Congress and the White House, cut your salaries first, then start cutting the fat out of excesses—not from the people who can't help themselves.

"Feed the poor" should speak to the super rich as well as the middle class that have been doing all they can. The President and Congress have a strange way of thinking—it is ok to cut benefits and shorten work weeks for the middle class and vulnerable but not for themselves.

It seems to me that those who drape themselves in the American flag should act like it and bite the bullet themselves first, then ask for sacrifices from the rest of the public. They should not claim immunity. I is disgusting!

For another thing, they should work a five-day week, have one home (in their district only) and come home every weekend. In Washington they can live in a dormitory and eat at the low priced dining halls in their buildings.

If they paid Social Security tax and had to pay for private health insurance for their families and didn't get such a large pension for a few years of service, they would be more realistic.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

Write or call Sen. Trent Lott, Sen. Thad Cochran, Rep. Gene Taylor and the President.

Note! Most of us can't provide big contributions, but our vote counts more than dollars if we used it wisely and let them know that they are really showing their colors by their votes on the budget.

That is where we find out who comes first. You can be sure the super rich vote their convictions.

Start a Hall of Shame for the vulnerable bashers.

Caldwell said, "I am against it."

He expressed skepticism that Hancock County was selected as the testing site, while north Mississippi was chosen as a construction site. He said, "NASA can't guarantee our safety," referring to the drastic changes in weather patterns along the Coast.

Caldwell gave as his final reason for opposition to the ASRM testing as, "In five years time they will be going back to liquid fuel anyway."

Longo, citing his concern for the environment, said he didn't believe NASA would be lying and had to rely on their expertise.

Mason supported the testing, saying it has been proven to be safe and would provide needed jobs.

Mason told the audience to look "at the same problem, across the bridge (Dupont), going on 24 hours a day."

Frilot refused to commit one way or the other. "I have attended all the meetings, I have been to NASA...and I still don't know enough," she said.

LOWER GAS RATES

Caldwell recommended Waveland "Get out of the gas business," when asked about Waveland lowering gas rates.

He suggested the door be opened to competitive businesses.

Longo said he was presently working with two companies on checking into spot gas contracts for better rates.

Mason suggested Waveland follow Bay St. Louis in joining a co-op situation as with the Mississippi Consortium Group.

Frilot agreed, "Yes, other sources should be investigated."

CIVIL SERVICE

The question of support for city employees to become civil servants was jointly supported by Caldwell and Mason.

Mason expressed the need to protect employees against political changes.

Longo disagreed saying, "Civil service does not protect staff members. It mostly affects maintenance workers, who are not usually political targets."

Longo added a staff was best delegated, "You have to trust the people...I would rather see a benevolent dictator than a bad civil service act."

WAVELAND-BAY UNIFICATION

All candidates agreed "no" on the question of whether Waveland and the Bay should ever be totally united.

Longo described the two neighbors saying, "Our thinking is a million miles away."

Everyone did agree on a cooperative spirit in which joint works could be accomplished.

POLICE VS. DUP'S

When asked how each would handle police zealotry in DUI and speeding ticket distribution, Caldwell said, "I don't believe Waveland has anymore drunks than anyplace else."

He suggested the police return to the places of business from where the person came out, and talk with the owners.

"Arrest him for public drunkenness," said Caldwell. A person could be ruined by heavy fines and being denied transportation, he explained.

Longo began by saying, "All Waveland police are certified graduates of an academy. The mayor does not instruct the police (department)."

He added since the beginning of Waveland DUI enforcement, "Not one fatality has occurred from a DUI driver."

Mason stressed the necessity for the police to not be concentrated in one area. He advocated an increase in neighborhood patrols.

"They should not be out there just for DUI money," said Mason. "They should be protecting citizens and property as well."

Frilot stated she was aware of the allegations and passed on judgement until further information could be gathered.

FULL-TIME MAYOR

The question of actual office hours each would commit was answered with a definite, "Five days a week, 9-5," by Frilot.

Mason, too, was firm on regular hours of availability to the people.

Longo and Caldwell expressed the necessity for out-of-office hours spent in pursuit of city business and extra hours during times of emergency, in addition to set office times.

INCREASE BUSINESS

The increase of business in Waveland was questioned, with the only specific answer being incentive measures in reduction or elimination of service charges, utility charges, and/or taxes for limited time periods advocated by both Mason and Caldwell.

Frilot addressed the necessity for present business to prosper saying, "It is easier to attract new businesses to an area when the businesses already there are doing well and are supported."

Longo reiterated the numerous programs already in place to aid in new business set-up costs. Addressing the moderator, chamber president Randy Castello, Longo asked if Mississippi Power was still giving two months free electric to any new business relocating along Coleman Avenue.

"Yes, Sir," answered the moderator.

EDUCATION

The candidates were asked their opinions on the adequacy of the Bay-Waveland school district.

Frilot flatly said, "Adequate? Yes. Excellent? No."

She continued saying the county population did "not have the need for two separate school systems." Improvement could be made through unification.

Mason said the Waveland schools were "very good."

He elaborated on the selection of the board members in Waveland saying, "They are voted on, not just in Waveland, but by people living in outlying areas."

Caldwell refused comment since he had no personal experience with the public system, explaining his children attend St. Clare.

He added he did feel Waveland was not receiving fair representation on the Bay-Waveland School Board.

Presently three members are appointed by Bay St. Louis while two members are voted by Waveland. He suggested it should be two and two, with the odd person being voted on jointly.

Longo made a comparison of today's education to his own, and expressed a definite preference for the prior saying, "There are areas for improvement."

COLEMAN EXTENSION

The prospect of extending Coleman Avenue to Hwy. 90 was one of agreement for the four.

The question of ownership of the land from Old Spanish Trail to Hwy. 90 was the first obstacle; the next pertained to the redesigning of St. Joseph Street and the effect of a major thoroughfare on Waveland Elementary.

Longo summed up the general caution involved in each candidate's response to the extension question saying, "I will not see a boulevard where someone can speed near a school with small children."

TAXES

Mason favored an increase in millage tax (property tax) over an increase in utilities when addressed about a policy toward general obligations and revenues.

Frilot insisted the streamlining of the government would eliminate wasteful spending and thereby provide additional revenues.

Longo explained no tax is totally equitable and warned against increasing millage of the general ad valorem tax saying, "It will sell (should taxes not be met) your home."

Caldwell advocated an administration "in the black," saying, "the lowest possible cost without increases."

As an alternative to Halloween celebrations, some local churches are holding fall festivals.

First Assembly of God, 1912 Arnold St., Waveland, will sponsor the Bay-Waveland Family Country Fair Oct. 31 from 6 to 9 p.m. as an alternative to trick-or-treating. Open to folks of all ages, it will include food, games, prizes, live music, a country costume contest and a puppet show. Children under five must be accompanied by an adult.

The same night, Harvest Time Church at 9113 Kiln-DeLisle Road will hold its Hallelujah Harvest Festival from 6 to 9 p.m. The festival will feature games, candy, prizes and music. A special highlight will be a presentation by the Harvest Time Players of the musical mini-drama "Revival in the Land."

—After trick-or-treating, if a child has picked up fresh fruit, cookies or homemade candy and can't remember where he got it, he shouldn't eat it.

—Parents should have their children eat a large meal before trick-or-treating. This will help to keep them from munching candy while they collect it.

—While trick-or-treating, children should walk — not run — from house to house. This will help avoid falls and injuries.

—Children who are trick-or-treating without their parents — either in a group or with older siblings — should draw up a route map before leaving home. This will give the parents an idea where the children will be.

—Trick-or-treaters should not enter the homes of strangers.

Elect
RUSSELL CALDWELL
Mayor
City of Waveland

It's Time for A Change.
Russell Caldwell is in touch with today's problems.

- We need jobs to secure our future
- We need to get our youth involved in the community
- We need to bring respectability back to our police force
- We need to start putting in proper roads.

Our excellent wastewater system needs to be extended to secure all of Waveland.

Waveland books need to be brought up to date - what is Waveland hiding?

Russell Caldwell has business in Waveland.
I know being mayor is a 24 hour, 7 days a week job.
Lets start making positive improvements.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It may be an hour earlier than you think if you didn't set your clock back one hour last night when you retired.

I haven't forgotten the formula of fall backward and spring forward for the time changes. This formula was given to me by several folks over the years.

I am now looking forward to late December when our days will once again begin to get longer. I prefer the longer days myself as it gives me a little more time to work in my yard.

The short days for the next three or four months do not give anyone who has to work much time to work in the yards and gardens.

The colder weather limits what one can grow anyway.

I am already looking forward to next Spring.

Those who attended the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition held at the new Hancock High School were very impressed with the very fine educational facilities.

The new junior and senior high school facilities appear to be among the most modern in our state and possibly the nation.

There appears to have been no short cuts with education of our youth taking top priority.

Terrell Randolph, Hancock County Superintendent of Education reports there will be an Open House on November 21 to give the general public an opportunity to tour the new facility.

High-tech equipment can be seen throughout the school and the several labs which are still being set up, appear to be first class.

I can go on and on about the wonderful educational facility, and I suggest that every resident of the area should try to attend the upcoming Open House. I have no doubt that they too will be impressed.

Folks do not want to forget the 1990 Great Gulf Coast Air Races and Show scheduled for next weekend, Nov. 3 and 4.

The 1990 event will mark the 12th year for the Experimental Aircraft Association Chapter 479's air show, and the second year for the Gulf Coast Air Race Association's joint participation.

Organizers for the event have been working very hard for the past year bringing everything together for the best show and air races ever for Hancock County.

There will also be aircraft from the 1930's, 1940's, 1950's and 1960's on display. Modern types as well as experimental aircraft will also be available for public viewing.

I mention this upcoming event so that you may plan it into your first weekend in November.

A lesson in school bond elections

Mississippians interested in education may want to look at a northeast Mississippi Community for a good example of what citizens can do when there is commitment to children.

Eighty-nine percent of the voters in a recent election voted for a $17 million school bond issue in Tupelo.

The 89 percent favorable vote in Tupelo came at a time when school bond issues are being defeated with regularity throughout the state.

How was the 89 percent favorable vote achieved?

Certainly, the members of the school board supported the bond issue.

Certainly, the community's political leaders supported the bond issue.

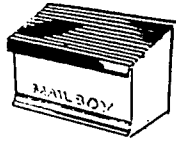

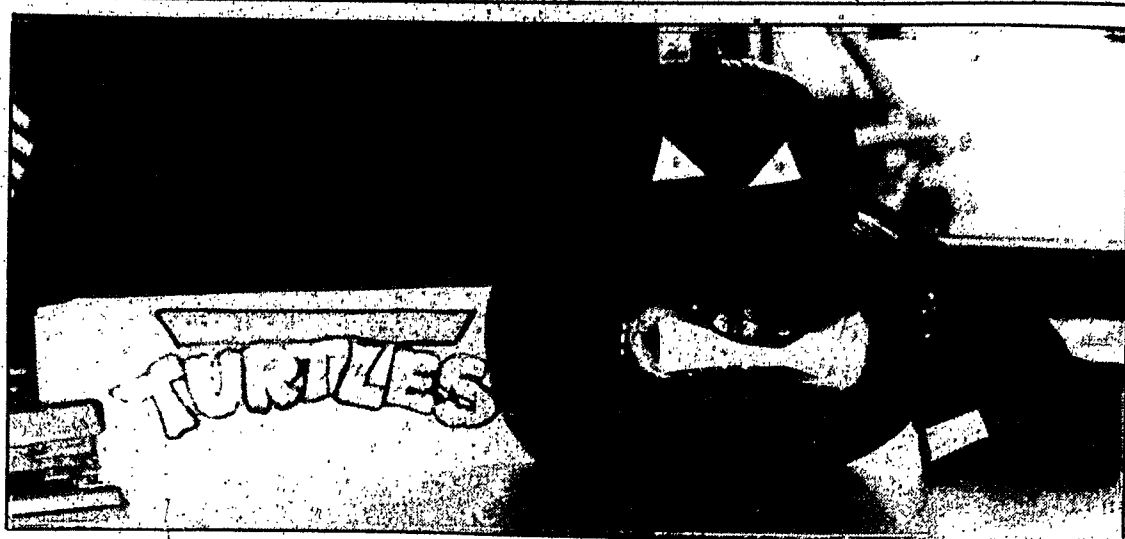

Certainly, teachers supported the school bond issue; proceeds should make their jobs easier.

But, the 89 percent vote came from taxpayers and other citizens committed to the improvement of education for the school children of Tupelo.

The Tupelo example sends a strong message: we can approve school bond issues through bond elections in Mississippi. All it takes is commitment, organization, hard work, and interest in our children.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Christians unite against gambling

To the Editor,

I know the last thing we need is another letter about gambling, but at least this one's short.

As for dockside gambling, I'm dead against it for all the reasons very ably presented by other letter writers.

I just want to go on record as standing by Rev. Nathan Barber against this subtle evil trying to slither into our community. Every Christian worth his salt will stand against it.

Christians, let your voices be heard on earth as well as in heaven. "Lord, lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from this evil."

Woody Stieffel

Say no to gambling while you have a chance

Dear Editor:

This is a special plea to the residents of Waveland and Bay St. Louis. Please demand a vote on dockside gambling. We do not want this for our cities. Gambling will not help us, it will only destroy the quality of our beautiful Gulf Coast.

If we give our waters to gambling, it will also take our land. Gambling will bring in crime and corruption, problems we are trying to rid our communities of now.

We, as Christians, do not want to expose our families to a situation of this sort. We want our cities to remain small, safe communities with a healthy environment in which to raise our children and grandchildren.

After reading in the September issue of 'Ladies Home Journal' about what happened to the small town of Deadwood, South Dakota, I was terrified.

When gambling became legal there, the residents thought it would bring back the wild west glory days. But it brought back more than money—a higher crime rate, addiction and child abuse. It meant the end of small town life as its residents knew it.

Main Street, once so quiet that a mountain lion could walk down it, is now as congested as a large city. Some families packed and moved away because they didn't want their children exposed to the greed of gambling.

One mother said, "I would like to call those other towns that are looking into gambling and say, 'don't do this until you think about it.' Now we look like a phony little amusement park."

Even the mayor said the city is having a difficult time keeping up with the changes. "The greed factor is definitely here," he said. The members of one family who found it necessary to move said they regret not fighting harder to keep gambling out of their town. "Deadwood was a community, now it is nothing," they said.

We don't want this to happen to our communities. Don't be taken in by devil's advocates, they only deliver 'Fool's Gold.' Let us join hands as Christians and say No to dockside gambling before it is too late.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator
Trent Lott

The budget is the Congress' responsibility

Three days before the Oct. 1 budget deadline, I happened to be passing through the Senate chamber and was astonished to hear assertions by two Democratic Senators that the President was ultimately at fault for the delay in getting a budget agreement.

That is perhaps the most ludicrous idea I have heard this whole year, although the Congress has been trying to convince those they represent that Congress' fingerprints are not on the deficit.

The problem is the Congress. Under the Constitution, the Congress enacts the budget and passes the spending bills. And make no mistake about it, Congress has passed and is passing appropriations bills which exceed the previous year's spending. That's where the deficit comes from, and that's why the Congress cannot duck the responsibility for it.

My colleagues from Kentucky and New Mexico, who were speaking for the benefit of the cameras beaming the Senate floor proceeding on C-Span television, suggested that the President stay in Washington and help us get things done.

What would help would be for Congress to do its job, get out of this town and go out and listen to the American people. If the President has erred, it has been in not holding Congress' feet to the fire. The problem with the budget negotiations is that Congress for reasons I never will understand always wants to find a way to raise more taxes so it can spend more money.

The budget is projected to be $1.1 trillion plus. So what are we hearing that the Congressional negotiators want to do? Raise taxes.

Congress will say a budget agreement has not been forthcoming because of the issue of capital gains tax treatment. I think it is because the budget negotiators are talking about taxing the Social Security benefits of people who are retired. The latter is the most ridiculous idea I have heard so far.

I am all for negotiation, and here's a negotiating position for the summiteers. I am willing to talk about not having tax cuts. Is the other side willing to talk about not having tax increases?

Roadblocks similar to those set up earlier this year by the Hancock County Sheriff's office will be used in two weeks for the checking of out-of-town license tags, expired tags and brake tags, according to Sheriff Ronald Peterson. Peterson said, "We have been receiving many complaints, particularly around construction sites about out-of-town license tags. We will be checking these as well as expired tags throughout the county."

The United States Census Department has just issued a bulletin dealing with the ownership of Hancock County homes. There are 2,512 homes in Hancock County. Of this number 373 are farm homes. 339 of the farm homes are owned by the occupants and are free of mortgage incumbrance. The mortgaged farm homes number is 8. Renters occupy 26 farm homes in Hancock County. There are 2,139 urban homes, of this number, 978 are home owners; 94 are mortgaged; 812 are free of mortgaged incumbrance; and 1,025 are rented. The census enumerators were unable to secure data to the ownership of a small percentage of both the rural and urban homes in this county.

Can it be done? There is a present vacancy in our public school occasioned by the removal of Miss Montgomery. The Board of Trustees is advertising for another teacher, but in so doing it specifies a first grade license. The Echo rises to ask if the requirement stipulated by the board is required by law, for if it is not, why not fill the vacancy with a Bay St. Louis teacher holding a second grade license?

Road Taxes — It might be well for those interested in good road tax. In France all carriages pay yearly tax, ranging from $9.50 to $19.50 according to the size of the vehicle. Moreover, a bicycle cannot go on the road until the tax on it has been paid, which amounts to $1.98 a year. Bicyclists in this country would be glad to pay a dollar a year on every wheel if by that means they might have roads they could ride over with ease and pleasure.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

The elegant eggplant has been around some two thousand years, roaming from what is believed to have been its original home in the East Indies and India to Europe, where the conquering Moors brought it in the Middle Ages.

From Europe the Spaniards brought the eggplant to South America, thence to us in North America. And, one of the tastiest easy ways to cook eggplant is the Turkish "Eggplant Imam Bayeldi" which means "The Imam Fainted."

There are many tales as to the origin of this dish, the only constant factor being that it is made with eggplant, and that the Imam was a long-ago Mohammedan priest known for his love of good food, newly married to the daughter of a wealthly merchant.

One version tells us that the wealthy bride's dowry included several jars of olive oil, also that eggplant cooked in olive oil was the Imam's favorite food. Because he insisted that his bride cook this special dish for him day after day, the olive oil supply at last ran out. And, the tale goes, the Imam was so shocked at this turn of events that he fainted!

Another tale goes to the effect that the bride of the Imam lingered too long over her afternoon whatever-game in the Middle East, substituted for our afternoon bridge games. She was too late to get to the butcher shop and had to improvise wholly with vegetables.

The dish which she created so delighted her husband that he swooned with joy! Whether you choose the version in which the Imam faints from disappointment or the version in which he swoons with joy, you'll like:

EGGPLANT

IMAM BAYELDI

1 large eggplant, cut in quarters
2 onions, chopped or sliced
1 bell (green) pepper, chopped
1 garlic clove, crushed
1/4 to 1/2 cup olive oil
1 cup canned tomatoes, drained

3 Tblsp. chopped parsley
Salt, pepper to taste
1 scant cup of water

Cut the eggplant into quarters, sprinkle with salt, and let stand in collander until dribbles of the juice form on the quarters. Rinse as needed, and pat dry. Meanwhile, saute the chopped onions and bell pepper and crushed garlic clove in the olive oil, and when soft-tender, add the cup of drained tomatoes, along with the chopped parsley. Dust with pepper and salt to your taste, and cook for a scant minute or so. Remove, and reserve.

Make a slit down the center of the eggplant quarters and stuff the vegetable mixture into the cavity. Place in a baking dish, and pour a scant cup of water in the bottom of the pan, so that the eggplant quarters won't scorch. Bake for approximately 30 to 40 minutes in a low oven (325°).

This is also tasty when chilled and sliced, and served as an appetizer. (Four servings)

Ruff said he was not completely familiar with the workings of a radio-controlled system like this one, so he was not sure whether the problem was with the power or the controls. He does expect the problem to be pinpointed and eliminated soon, though.

The early warning system was developed by Dupont officials and some of the plant's near neighbors in response to concern over two chemical releases earlier this year. Both releases were of titanium tetrachloride, a chemical which forms a dense white cloud when it comes into contact with moisture.

Titanium tetrachloride, also known as "tickle" for its chemical composition (TiCl4), is a whitening agent used in many household and personal products, including deodorant and toothpaste. In cloud form, it is a strong respiratory irritant with acute (short term) effects.

The early warning system is designed to let Dupont neighbors know when a release occurs of either "tickle" or chlorine gas (seen as a yellow-green cloud), and will instruct them as to whether they should evacuate.

transmitted diseases and other problems facing today's youth. The task force's executive director, Janet Polozola, spends a fair share of her time as director in the local schools talking to students. Other speakers also address these topics in the classrooms.

Meanwhile, the city of Bay St. Louis is making a few changes at the Valena C. Jones gym to maintain the facility for those using it. Most of the work involves cleaning and replacement of lights and parts that are worn out or broken.

However, the city also is planning to place screens over the gym windows so the windows can be opened without giving local pigeons access to the building.

In addition, if all goes according to schedule, within the next two to three weeks the ramps used by skateboarders during practice and competitions will have their own storage areas.

CAR CARE

Cooling system service keeps your car safe and dependable in winter

Would you risk a $1,500 repair bill to save $25 on car service? That's the gamble you take if you've failed to have seasonal cooling system service done on your car.

One out of five cars and light trucks inspected in National Car Care Month vehicle check-lanes was found to have sub-standard cooling system anti-freeze protection.

The number of under-protected vehicles increased significantly after the price of anti-freeze increased several years ago, according to Car Care Council, who advise against the practice of false economy when it comes to vehicle maintenance.

A vehicle takes an abnormal amount of punishment in severe winter weather, reminds the Council.

The most noticeable cold weather symptom is slow starting, usually a result of the drastic decrease in a battery's cranking power.

The engine is harder to turn over for another reason: the oil is thicker. Everything, in fact, acts stiff: the heater fan, the shock absorbers and springs, the steering, the transmission, even the brakes.

So just because you have the engine warmed up, don't assume your car is rarin' to go. Drive it easy for a few miles in cold weather.

Other cold weather tips from the Council:

- Add a little extra anti-freeze solution to your windshield washer reservoir... not the type you use in the engine, but a concentrate available at most auto supply stores.

In extreme cold, a pint of rubbing alcohol added to the windshield washer solvent will help prevent freezing.

- Do not use pure anti-freeze. The normal mixture is half water and half ethylene glycol.

- Use extreme caution when spraying starting fluid. A backfire through the carburetor or any spark can cause fire or explosion.

If you must use starting fluid, be sure to have a good fire extinguisher nearby.

- Remember the correct way to hook up jumper cables: red clamps on positive (hot) terminals, then one black clamp on the negative (ground) terminal of the good battery with the final connection to the engine or frame of the disabled vehicle.

This prevents a spark from occurring near a battery, which emits explosive hydrogen gas. If your engine is in tune and your battery is in good shape, you're not likely to need a jump start. For more information on keeping your vehicle safe and dependable this winter, send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed business envelope to: "Winter," One Grand Lake Drive, Port Clinton, Ohio 43452.

Alignment

Chuck Morgan, front, installs an inner tie-rod end at Guy's Brake and Alignment on Highway 90. Owner Guy Dye is in background. (Echo staff photo by Janet McQueen)

Maintain exhaust system

Put yourself in this scenario: You hit a bump and your muffler falls off. The clatter and bang of the fallen debris gets unwanted attention from surrounding pedestrians and drivers, especially the person behind you whose car took your muffler right in the left headlight and grille.

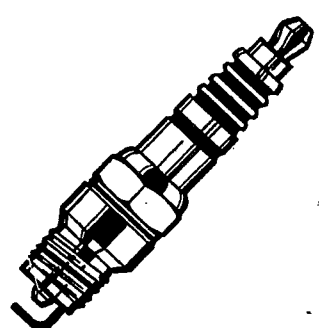

Now the roar of your engine's unsilenced exhaust draws more attention to your plight.

Annoying, embarrassing and expensive, this kind of incident can be avoided with a few preventive measures. The loss of a muffler, and sometimes the pipes that go with it, usually is due to a broken support (or "hanger") that secures the system to the frame of your car. These flexible brackets are vulnerable to damage from elements, flying stones and engine vibrations. The rattling and banging of an exhaust pipe against the underneath of your car is the first sign that one has broken. That's your warning to have necessary parts replaced. Frequently the mufflers that fall by the side of the road are perfectly good. It's the inexpensive brackets that needed to be replaced. The exhaust system should be inspected whenever the car is on a lift for oil change and lubrication services. In between times, check for potential trouble by reaching down and shaking the tail pipe (when it's cool) to note unusual looseness or contact with the car body. When in doubt, have your mechanic check it out for you.

Another, more common, warning noise comes from a leaking exhaust system. This can be the familiar rumble or roar of the blown muffler or, in its early stages, a faint "pff... pff... pff..." from a small hole. The sooner you replace defective exhaust parts the better. Because of their carbon monoxide content, colorless, odorless exhaust fumes seeping into a closed car are lethal.

Test your automobile awareness with this cold-weather car quiz

Summer is history. Now we're looking forward, more or less, to the cold winter ahead. In the spirit of the season, here's a true/false quiz to test your auto awareness.

1. For better traction on ice or snow, "bleed" air from your tires. (T) or (F)
2. Headlight aiming is uncertain about the condition of your brake lining and pads, have them checked. The noise could be a signal that you're due for a brake job.

7. TRUE. On a four-cylinder engine, when one spark plug isn't firing, the fuel in that cylinder is wasted.

8. TRUE. The thump can come from a flat spot or from a lump on the tire. Flat spots usually are caused by improper wheel balance or alignment. A blister or bulge may be due to tread separation, a potentially dangerous condition.
9. FALSE. Overfilling the gas tank can cause raw fuel to enter the vapor recovery line which leads to the engine. This can result in hard starting and erratic operation until that fuel is burned off.

10. FALSE. Although they can last much longer, CV (constant velocity) joints normally need replacement between 75,000 and 100,000 miles. Connecting the transmission to the wheels on a front wheel drive car, these flexible joints are covered with rubber boots to keep grease in and road dirt out. Failure of the boots is the most common reason for damage to CV joints.

Scoring: 9-10 right is excellent. 7-9 is passing. Below that, brush up on car care.

Complete training seminar

Wes Ziegler, owner of Gateway Body Shop, and collision repair technicians Eric Kinard and Charles LaFontaine completed a one week training course at the Chief Automotive Training Center in Dallas, Texas. The class trained participants in the use of the Chief E-Z Liner Frame Machine and frame gauge and alignment system. Special focus was repair of high strength low alloy steels used in today's unibody frame construction.

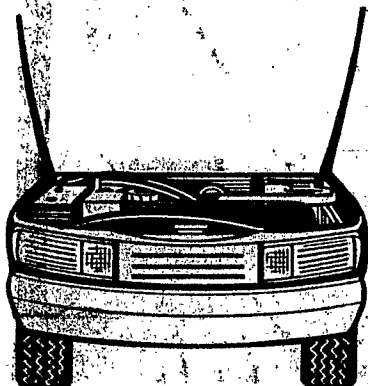

unnecessary with the new halogen lights. (T) or (F)

3. When the alternator warning light goes on it could indicate your car needs a new drive belt. (T) or (F)
4. The average size automobile engine develops enough heat to keep a five-room house comfortably warm during zero degree weather. (T) or (F)
5. When windshield wipers smear the glass they should be cleaned off and coated with mineral oil. (T) or (F)
6. A squealing noise when you apply the brakes is not necessarily a sign that they need to be relined. (T) or (F)
7. One misfiring spark plug can affect gas mileage by as much as 25%. (T) or (F)
8. A thumping sound from the front of the car usually comes from a bad tire. (T) or (F)
9. When filling the gas tank in cold weather it's best to fill the tank to the top of the filler neck, just short of overflowing. (T) or (F)
10. The CV joints on a front wheel drive car never should wear out under normal driving conditions. (T) or (F)

Answers

1. FALSE. Maximum tread contact and, therefore, best traction is achieved with properly inflated tires.
2. FALSE. Any type of headlight can go out of adjustment due to vibration or body damage.
3. TRUE. A worn or improperly adjusted drive belt can slip on its pulley, causing low output from the alternator.
4. TRUE. Metal Temperatures inside the engine can reach 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. Excess heat is dissipated off by the cooling system.
5. FALSE. Keeping windshield wiper blades clean will improve their wiping ability, but stop right there. A film of wax or oil on the windshield or windshield wiper blades will cause smearing. Clean the edge of the blade and the glass with windshield washer solvent or a mild detergent. If wiper still smears, replace the blade.
6. TRUE. New semi-metallic brake linings tend to be noisy. However, if you're working condition.

To prevent potentially deadly fumes from entering your vehicle, have your exhaust system examined for leaks and the underbody (and trunk) inspected for small holes.

8. Tires. Balding tires are a safety hazard and of little use in snow and slush. Tires should be rotated about every 5,000 miles.

The air pressure should be checked once a month; let the tires "cool down" first. Check the sidewalls for nicks and cuts. Examine tires for tread life, uneven wearing, and cupping.

Brakes. Regular maintenance will extend the life of your brakes and will prevent more costly repairs due to neglect.

Brakes should be inspected as recommended by your manual, or sooner if you notice pulsations, grabbing, noises, or longer stopping distances.

CAR CARE

Pay attention to circuit breakers and car's fuses

Some car emergencies cannot be anticipated; others, such as a flat tire or a blown fuse, can. Knowing how to deal with either of these involves first reading one's owner's manual and then actually doing it. The purpose of fuses and circuit breakers in your car, as in your house, is to prevent an overload circuit from overheating the system, which could lead to a fire. They also prevent damage to the components. An electric windshield wiper, for example, generally will be protected by a circuit breaker as well as a fuse. When encrusted by ice and snow the immobilized wiper motor could burn out if it were not protected. Circuit breakers also may be found on the electric radio antenna, lights and other components. They will switch off during overload, then on again when the circuit cools. Another part of the electrical protective system is the fusible link, a special segment in a vehicle's wiring that melts first in case of a short circuit. One of these can be found on the positive battery cable. Experts offer this advice on fuses.

1. Know the location of the fuse panel in your car. Generally, it will be under the instrument panel near the steering wheel. Your owner's manual should show you.
2. Keep replacement fuses in your glove compartment. Check to be sure what type of fuses are used in your particular vehicle.
3. Learn how to replace them. This information may not be included in the owner's manual.

If you're unfamiliar with the procedure, have your dealer or mechanic show you. If a fuse blows more than once, find out why. Do not replace a blown fuse with one of heavier rating. If a fuse-link wire blows, you have a major short circuit. Do not attempt to replace that wire until the faulty circuit is repaired. Then use a fusible link of the correct rating. Do not use a screwdriver or other metal tool to remove a fuse. It could cause a short circuit and damage to electrical components. If your car uses the tubular glass fuse, keep a fuse puller in the glove compartment.

Environment-conscious car care

Frank Hille Quick Lube on Hwy. 90 emphasizes not only the need for an oil change every 3,000 miles, but accepts all used oil from at-home oil changes. Hille explained the used oil is recycled as heating oil, saving on crude oil usage. The shop turns in more than 600 gallons of burned motor oil for recycling. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

Get ready for winter driving with these tips

The National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (ASE), a non-profit organization which administers national certification tests to automotive technicians, offers the following tips to help you get ready for winter driving. Some are a cinch; others require the skilled hands of a professional auto technician.

1. Getting started. All drivers, even those who never turn a wrench, should start by reading the owner's manual and becoming familiar with the basic vehicular systems.
2. Battery. The battery is called on to work very hard in cold weather (hard starts in the mornings, increased use of headlights and the heater blower, etc.), but as temperatures drop so does the cranking power of most batteries.

Battery failure is a typical cold-weather problem. The only accurate way to detect a weak battery is with the professional equipment available at good repair shops.

Most people, though, can perform routine care. Scrape away corrosion from posts and cable connections; clean all surfaces, re-tighten all connections. Wear eye protection and rubber gloves to avoid contact with the corrosive deposits and acid.

4. Engine oil. The oil change is one of the most vital maintenance tasks, yet it is one of the most neglected. The oil and filter should be changed as specified in your owner's manual—more often (every 3,000 miles), if you do a lot of stop-and-go driving, carry heavy loads, or drive long distances.

5. Cooling system. To help prevent radiator freeze-ups and/or overheating, the cooling system should be completely flushed and refilled about every 24 months.

The level, condition, and concentration of the coolant should be checked periodically. Never remove the radiator cap until the engine has cooled down.

A 50/50 mix of anti-freeze and water is usually recommended. The tightness and condition of drive belts, clamps and hoses should be checked by a pro.

6. Engine performance. If you noticed engine driveability problems such as rough idling, hard starts, stalling, and diminished power during the summer, by all means get them corrected now before harsh weather sets in. The air, fuel and PCV filters should be replaced according to the manufacturer's recommendations.

7. Heater/defroster. For your comfort and safety, the heater and defroster should be in good

Checklist to extend life of tires

- Check tire pressure, including the spare, at least once a month, as well as before long trips and at the onset of winter weather.
- Check tire pressure when tires are cold to the touch.
- Remove stones, gravel or other debris stuck in the tread.
- Regularly inspect tire tread and sidewalls for cuts, splits, bruises as well as uneven wear. Cuts and splits must be repaired.
- Have tires rotated every 5,000 to 8,000 miles.
- Replace bent or damaged wheels.
- Follow tire and vehicle weight specifications to prevent overloading.
- Have suspension and steering systems checked regularly.
- Avoid fast starts, hard turns and screeching halts.
- Park carefully to avoid denting wheels or scuffing sidewalls on curbstone.

Pirates rout Bulldogs 47-0

Special to the Echo
BY PATRICK MCKEE
The Pass Christian Pirates whipped the Vancleave Bulldogs 47-0 Friday night. It was homecoming for the Pirates, and it appeared that the Vancleave end zone was the proverbial "light in the window" for no interceptions. Eldon Daniels had his best night as well. He managed to kick five PATs after recovering from a foot injury suffered earlier in the year. Ryan "Boo" Jenkins accumulated 135 yards receiving, and Jimmy Crawford excelled them. With 10:45 to play in the first quarter, quarterback Tracey Watts hit Ryan "Boo" Jenkins for a touchdown pass that began the Pirate scoring. A 2-point conversion attempt failed.

Two more first quarter touchdowns then followed. Watts dove into the end zone from the 2-yard line, and Eldon Daniels kicked for the extra point.

Then, with just five seconds left before the end of the quarter, Jenkins again took a Watts pass in for a TD. Daniels' kick was good, and the Pirates were ahead 20-0.

In the second quarter the rout continued. Charles Lizana ran 20 yards for a TD, and Watts ran for another. Daniels persisted in putting his best foot forward, and the score at half-time was 34-0.

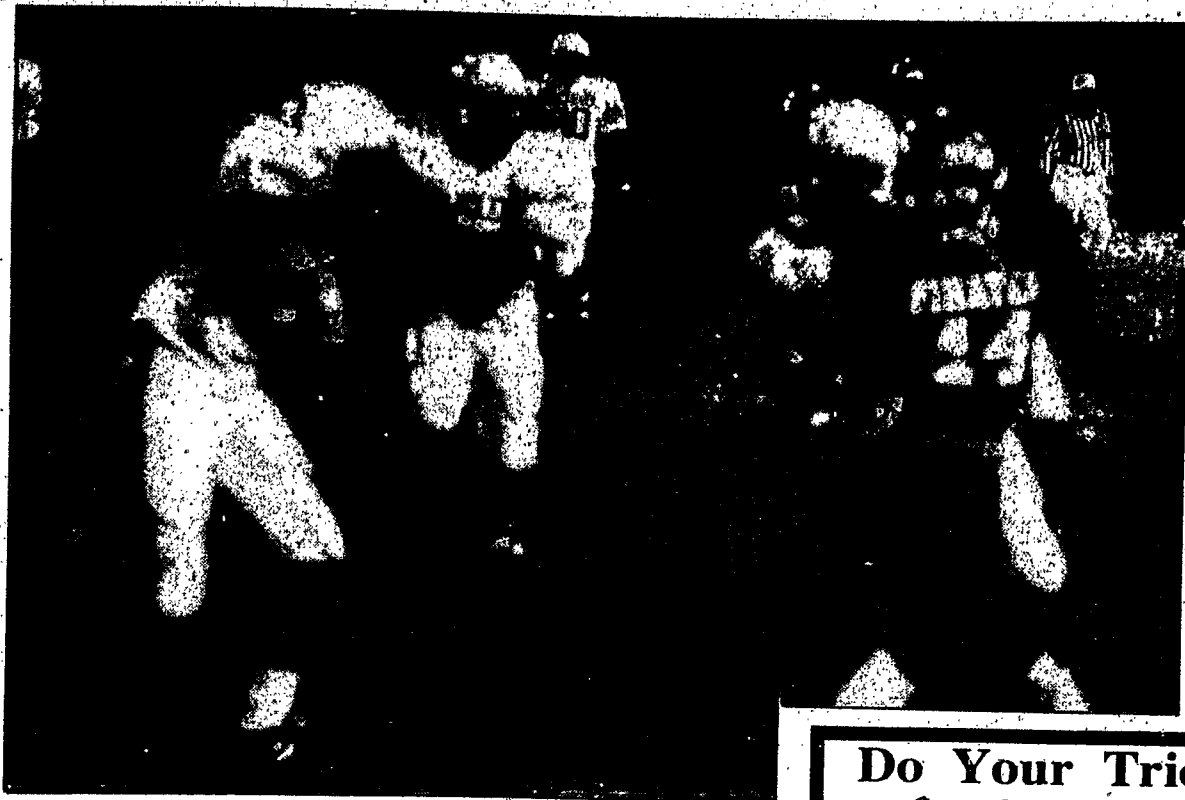

While the homecoming activities were underway, Pirate head coach Joseph Brown expressed satisfaction with his team's play.

"I'm happy with the improvement," he said about the team's offense. "They have improved mentally. There is execution."

In the third quarter Vancleave's defense managed to hold the Pirates back for the first 11 minutes. Then Watts passed to Renaldo Delavade for a TD, and after the PAT failed the score was 40-0.

In the fourth quarter Burnell Dedeaux got his chance to score when Watts tossed one to him. The PAT was good, and the Pirates had a 47-0 victory.

Watts had his best game of the season with four touchdown passes, and two that he ran in himself. He completed 16 out of 27 passes for 264 yards and had defensively with 13 tackles.

The victory gives the Pirates their first winning season in several years. They are presently 6-3 overall for the season, and 2-2 in their district games. Whether they make the playoffs is still uncertain.

"We can't rely on other teams to do it for us," said Brown in referring to postseason play. "The kids have to do it themselves. We have to accept responsibility for ourselves."

Brown was pleased with the team's offense. "There was much better execution on the field. We had a few mistakes out there. The defense did a super job. All of the kids were mentally ready tonight. It's good to have a home win. It's a real plus for them.

"Now we need to get ready for Bay," he added, referring to next week's away game with Bay St. Louis.

Sack!

Rocks stun Devils 38-13

Special to the Echo
 BY TOM ACKERMAN
 Motivation!

That's the key word.

When the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws secured a post-season playoff berth last week, one might have thought they would let up a little, take it easy, relax.

But if Friday night's non-district contest was any indication, the Rocks are more fired up and determined than ever — motivated. The Rocks swamped the visiting Pearl River Central Blue Devils 38-13.

The SSC triple threat — Ken Booker, Mike Lee, and Tate Thriffley — combined for five scores, while the fourth horseman, Mickey Quinlan, added a sixth. In addition, Galen Smith caught some key passes to set up the scores, as kickers Robbie Bourgeois and Bubba O'Brien added two PATs for the 38 points on the board.

On the other side of the coin, the stingy Rock defense held the Devils to 68 yards on the ground and logged six quarterback sacks by Sal Palmisano, Kerry Wittmann, Mark Carter, Scott Peterson, and Steven Bradley.

Free safety Paul Johnson added a 41-yard fumble return to set up a Rock score from the 4.

On opening kickoff, Pearl River received and picked up two first downs before having their drive cut short by a Lee interception.

PRC's second drive was cut short when Booker stripped the ball from the Devil carrier and ran 23 yards to set up a scoring drive from the 9.

With 4:16 remaining in the first quarter, Thriffley powered across from the 2 to put the Rocks up 6-0. A bobbled setup for the PAT forced a pass by Quinlan to Peterson. Peterson connected but stepped out of bounds.

The Devils couldn't get past midfield on their next possession because of failed passes broken up by the Rock defense and a sack by Wittmann and Carter.

Early in the second period of play, the Rock-A-Chaws took possession on the Devils' 18 on a bad snap for the punt. Trading carries, Booker and Lee moved to the 4 on five plays, and Booker took over for the score to make it 12-0 with 8:50 showing on the clock. The 2-point pass attempt failed.

The next PRC possession gave the Rocks some unexpected momentum. On third down, the Devils fumbled and SSC recovered — or so they thought. After some moments of uncertainty, the officials decided the Devils would take the play over.

Once again, the Rocks recovered when Peterson sacked Devil quarterback Bobby Thaxton, and Wittmann saved for SSC by moving to the 14.

Once again, Booker and Lee combined on four plays, and Booker danced across the line with 5:45 left in the first half, putting the Rocks up 18-0.

The Devils' offense got into high gear on their next possession when, on third down, Thaxton connected on a long pass for the score with 4:53 showing. The PAT kick was good to give the visitors 7 points on the board.

The next Rock possession was highlighted by a 37-yard pass reception by Galen Smith, but the drive stalled on the 35.

Credit for the next score went to heads-up playing by Johnson. On PRC's second down, Thaxton's pass attempt was foiled by Lee. Johnson picked it up and ran to the 4, but a flag on the ground stalled the play.

However, the play wasn't called back. The official had accidentally pulled his flag out instead of his marker.

The Rocks took over, and on second down Booker scored his third TD of the night with 14 seconds left in the first half.

It took the Rocks 10 plays to make good on their second half reception. Taking the ball at their own 33, SSC moved to the 40 on a run by Lee. Thriffley followed with a carry to the 46 for a first down.

Booker, Thriffley and Lee combined again to move to the PRC 30 on seven plays.

On first down from the 30, Rock quarterback Bill Dreher found Lee open. Determined to score, Lee pushed his way through with 7:30 on the third period clock and put the Rocks up 30-7.

Bourgeois kicked the point after for a 31-7 score.

Late in the third quarter, Lee intercepted a Thaxton pass and went all the way from the 20, only to have it called back on a penalty.

Undaunted, the Rocks took possession on the interception, and Dreher connected with Booker who scampered to the 10. Lee moved it to the 8, and Dreher found Quinlan open with 19 seconds left in the period.

O'Brien's kick was good, and the Rocks ended their scoring at 38.

With 39 seconds left in the game, Thaxton connected from the 16 for the Devils' second score, closing out at 38-13.

Next week, the Rock-A-Chaws will travel to Covington, La. to face the St. Paul Wolves.

Hawks shut out Tigers 23-0

Special to the Echo

The Hancock Hawks got back on the winning track Friday night by defeating rival Bay High Tigers 23-0 at Tiger Stadium.

The Tigers moved the ball effectively in the first half of the contest but were unable to score. They kept the ball for 31 offensive plays to the Hawks' 14.

Bay High won the toss and elected to kick. Ike Majors received the opening kickoff and returned it to the 29.

On the next play, Hancock running back Terrance Goff broke off tackle and dashed 71 yards for the first TD of the evening. Gabe Lumpkin added the PAT, making the score 7-0.

The Tigers showed they were ready to play ball after returning the Hawk kickoff to the 27. Bay High started a 12-play drive that brought the ball to the Hancock 35, where once again the Hawks' defense shined.

Hancock took over on downs and had moved the ball to the 20 when the scrappy Tiger defense slapped the ball loose and recovered it. The remainder of the half consisted of a fine defensive effort from both sides, with Bay High dodging a bullet right before the half.

Hancock had the ball on the 19-yard line with nine seconds remaining in the half. Goff broke loose for a long TD run, only to be called back by a penalty. Goff came to a close with a 7-0.

The second half began with Hancock kicking the ball into the end zone for a touchback. Bay High took control of the ball on their own 20. The Tigers made a 10-play drive, bringing the ball out to the 40, when Hancock defensive back Regan Ladner and Jeff Favre dropped the Tiger running back for a 1-yard loss.

On the next play the Tiger running back was hit hard by Jonathan Fletcher for a 3-yard loss. After a complete pass, the Tigers were left on fourth-and-14.

Goff retrieved the punt on his own 37 and brought it back to the 10. Hawk running backs Goff, Jeron Vince and Bobby Doyle combined their talents and, with the blocking of their tough offensive line, moved the ball down to the Tiger 10.

Hancock QB Ladner ran an option play to the left, where he clipped off the drive by diving in for the score. The PAT was good, making the score 14-0.

Bay High's next possession was short-lived after they converted on a fourth-and-three. The ball rested on the 47.

The Tigers went for it all on a second-and-nine when their QB Charlie Mitchell aired out a zone for a safety, bringing the score to 16-0 with four minutes left.

Following the safety, the Tigers had to punt to Hancock. Taking possession on their own 30, the Hawks started another drive. Hancock had moved the ball down to the Tiger 37 and taken the clock down to 1:09 when, on a third-and-seven, Ladner hit a wide-open Vince with a pass down to the 10. Vince ran it in for the final TD of the night. The PAT was good, bringing the final score to 23-0.

The Tigers play their last game of the season next Friday as they host rival Pass Christian. The Hawks play a home game against Harrison Central.

A long pass that was intercepted by Jeff Favre at the 11.

With 10:47 left in the game, the Hawks started another ground-control drive that took five minutes off the clock. Once again it was time for the Tiger defense to make a stand, forcing Hancock to punt from their own 40.

Goff nailed a beautiful punt that came to rest on the Tiger 6. Three plays later on a third-and-six from the 10, Bay High tried a screen pass, but Hancock's Fletcher and Lumpkin combined on a tackle that caught the Tiger QB in the end

Liz Covington Wears The Same Face At Home She Wears At Work.

If we hired people at Garden Park Community Hospital only for their proficiency in clinical care—how quickly they can give out medication, how easily they can fill out a chart or how skillfully they can bandage a wound, we could hire the same people any hospital does.

But we don't. We hire people for more than that.

We hire them for their proficiency in patient care—how quickly they can drop what they're doing if a patient needs them, how easily they can make a patient feel comfortable or how skillfully they can listen.

And because of that, we get the kind of people you won't find in other hospitals. People like Liz Covington who treat their Garden Park patients the same way they treat their family. With unqualified compassion. The utmost respect. And as much attention as they can handle.

State-of-the-art technology? The latest medical procedures? Employees who can recite their clinical care manuals chapter and verse? You can find those at most hospitals, including Garden Park.

Liz Covington? You can find her only at Garden Park.

Air show sponsors hope for national event

BY JANET MCQUEEN
A national show is the goal of the organizers of the 1990 Great Gulf Coast Air Races and Air Show at Stennis International Air Park November 3-4. "We want to be part of the Unlimited Air Racing circuit," said Mike Smith, spokesman for the show's sponsors, Experimental Aircraft Association Chapter 479 and the Gulf Coast Air Race Association. "Unlimited races are currently held in Reno, Denver and Texas. We hope to be the fourth site," he said. With the prospect of attracting a national sponsor, prizes could be made available to racers. At present, all of the performers are donating their time and talents to make the show successful.

This year's sponsors are Miller Brewing Company of Milwaukee, Wisc. and Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Gulfport/Allen Beverages.

"Stennis is showcased as an airport in these races," said Smith. "Many people from New Orleans have based their planes here, after viewing the facilities."

"There is also a significant economic impact on the area, with the influx of tourists attending the show."

In addition to closed circuit pylon races between high-speed racing airplanes, the event will feature a squadron of aerobatic airplanes, military and antique aircraft, amateur-built and commercial airplanes and helicopters.

Headlining the aerobatic teams are professionals, the Royal Albanian Precision Flight Team and the North American Team.

The Royal Albanians, of Shreveport, La., are the oldest professional aerobatic pilots in the United States, according to Smith.

The North Americans fly World War II T-6 and SNJ Trainers. The trainers are planes that launched thousands of American cadets on their flying careers two generations ago, now thrilling audiences with precision formation aerobatic maneuvers.

Clover leaf, echelon barrel roll, snap-on-top-of-the-loop and breathtaking switchblade maneuvers, executed with sharp precision, timing and grace are in store for all attending the two-day show.

The air races around towering pylons marking off the multi-sided race course will begin at noon on both Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 3 and 4 at Stennis International airport. The airport will be closed each day from noon to 4:30 p.m. for the races and air show.

Three classes of racers will compete in heats each day. The smaller Formula Vee racers, powered by Volkswagen engines, will hit speeds of over 170 miles per hour.

The aircraft will be flying 100 to 200 feet above the ground and will be in full view of the show crowd at all times. The experimental class racers will top 210 miles per hour while circling the three-mile course.

A dozen former military T-6 airplanes, the largest of the World War II single-engine trainers, will blast around the pylons at speeds in excess of 230 miles per hour.

The powerful radial engines of the T-6's will produce ground-shaking, ear-splitting sounds that will stir the most experienced and calmest race fan.

The race planes will come from Mississippi and Louisiana and the adjoining states of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Arkansas, and Texas. Several of the pilots are from south Mississippi and south Louisiana.

A special "Tribute to Vietnam Veterans" and a "Flight for Freedom" will be performed each day by air show pilots and aircraft to salute and commemorate those who fought to preserve freedom around the world.

Over a dozen modern military aircraft will be on static display, and several will perform aerial demonstrations each day.

The military aircraft will include T-2, T-6, T-28, T-34 and T-37 Trainers; TA-4 and T-38 Advanced Jet Trainers; and A-7, A-10, F-4 and F-15 Jet Fighters.

The largest airplanes will include the C-130 and C-141 cargo planes and the P-3 Submarine Hunter. The C-141, with a wing span of 168 feet, is the second largest cargo plane in the U.S. Air Force. Several military helicopters will also be on hand for display and flight demonstration.

Numerous food vendors will offer a large variety of specialty foods and beverages. Several airplanes and helicopters will offer rides before and after the races and air show each day.

The gates will open each day at 9 a.m. for inspection of the aircraft and to meet the pilots and their crews. The air race and air show will start at noon each day and concludes at 4:30 p.m.

The large display of military aircraft offers an excellent educational opportunity for young people to see the aircraft which fought 50 years ago in World War II and those which today defend peace in the Middle East.

Admission is $6 for adults and $3 for children (6-12). Tickets are available at your nearest Ticket Master office or may be obtained by calling 467-3466 or 868-1231. Tickets will also be available at the gates.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club dedicates 'Grandmother's Garden'

Special to the Echo
The seed for 'Grandmother's Garden' was planted in the nostalgia of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's 50th anniversary.

Whether city or country, "home" to our grandmothers meant family and flowers. Flowers really were family, like the perennials, they perpetuated themselves for generations.

Remember the word "hardy" in all the seed catalogs? Old-fashioned plants were as hardy as our grandmothers!

The club was supported in the project by the Deep South Regional Director, in the planning of programs and projects and compiling a list of places where seeds are available.

Some club members toured the area and took photographs of various old-fashioned species in bloom. These were made into a slide presentation and sent to the State Club program chairman.

Each having started her own personal 'Grandmother's Garden,' the club decided to unify its efforts by sharing and showcasing prize plants, bulbs and flowers at the historic Garden Center on Leonhard Avenue.

A listing of plants from our own gardens that have passed the tests of time in our area are iris, day lily, azalea, narcissus, pansy, lirope, wisteria, hydrangea and crape myrtle.

The garden has been completed and was officially dedicated at the fall flower show on October 19.

KNS Theatre stages upbeat musical 'Chicago'

"Chicago, Chicago, the town that Billy Sunday could not put down." So states the old song about that brassy, sassy city, Chicago. Mr. Sunday may have had trouble keeping Chicago in line but the upcoming Kinetic Neo Skene Theatre production of Chicago is bound by no such limitations.

Chicago, which will be presented at the Biloxi Saenger Theatre on Nov. 2, 3 and 4, is under the direction of Kinard Fite, resident artistic director. As in past KNS productions, Mr. Fite will fill the Saenger stage with a dazzling display of Gulf Coast talent.

Chicago, written by Fred Ebb and Bob Fosse, is a razzle-dazzle, roaring twenties dance and song marathon, which portrays, through a series of vaudevilian acts, the hilarious and often seedy ups and downs of Roxie Hart, a married chorus girl, Velma Kelly, a murderess, and Billy Flynn, a venal lawyer.

While attempting to elevate herself out of her chorus girl doldrums, Roxie shoots her married lover. Her subsequent trial is turned into a three-ring circus by Jake, a hard-nosed cynical reporter, Mary Sunshine, a sob-sister newswoman, and Billy Flynn, Roxie's not so honest lawyer.

While in jail, she meets Vel-ma Kelly, also in for murder, and together they plan to capitalize on pre-trial publicity for the sake of their acquittals and stage careers.

The attention the publicity brings turns Roxie's head and she tells one lie after another to obtain one more front page story. After acquittal, she announces yet another sensational story only to find her fragile "career" is over-shadowed by yet another new murderess, Go To Hell Kitty.

Knowing she is beaten, she obligingly poses with Go To Hell Kitty for one last photograph and wanders off into theatrical oblivion.

The original Broadway show which ran for 892 performances starred Gwen Verdon as Roxie, Chita Rivera as Velma and Jerry Orbach as Billy.

KNS has its own "stars" for its production. Elizabeth Hart, who is best remembered for her heart-rendering role of Audrey in Gulfport Little Theatre's Little Shop Of Horrors, convincingly portrays Roxie Hart.

Coming around full circle, KNS's resident choreographer Mary Evans Weaver proves her theatrical talents on both sides of the foot lights by putting her magical choreographical touch on the diversified dance numbers and her bombastic interpretation of Velma Kelly.

One of KNS's most talented male stars, Ronny Broussard is the embodiment of that sleazy ner'r-do-well lawyer, Billy Flynn.

Chicago, unlike other large, splashy musicals, revolves around an ensemble of some 20 people who portray more than one character and are involved in the intricate dance numbers.

Holiday decorating classes Thursday

Once again the three Coast counties will sponsor holiday decoration programs. The Hancock County classes will be conducted Thursday, November 1, 9:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., Mississippi Power meeting room.

A variety of accessories and some gift ideas will be presented by extension home economists from Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties. Instruction booklets will be provided to those in attendance.

No registration is necessary, but inquiries may be made by calling 467-5456.

IN BRIEF

MISS. POWER COSTS AMONG LOWEST

In a time when energy bargains are few and far between, Mississippi Power Company customers continue to enjoy some of the lowest electric rates in the country.

According to an October survey of 60 utilities nationwide, Mississippi Power's charge for 1,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity was $55.85. This rate was lower than 58 of the 60 utilities surveyed.

"Mississippi Power is committed to maintaining a competitive edge in the costs our customers pay for electricity," Buddy Eller, supervisor, external communications said. "We are constantly looking for opportunities to operate more efficiently to reduce customer costs."

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Parents Without Partners

Single parents are invited to a round robin discussion at the Gaston Hewes Recreation Center, 2806 17th Street, Gulfport, 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 1. It will be free, educational, informative and sometimes amusing. Parents Without Partners, Chapter 1120, is sponsor.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

WAVELAND

TOPS No. 233 Waveland met Tuesday, Oct. 16. Delores was the best loser with 5 1/2 pounds.

Shelly received a charm for losing her first ten pounds. Juanita won the umbrella contest and received the prize fund. The club had a white elephant sale to raise money for the treasury.

Oct. 23 Rose was the best loser with 4 1/2 pounds. This week the club netted a loss of 14 1/2 pounds. Jeanette received a charm for losing six weeks in a row, and Shelly received a charm for losing 30 pounds.

The KOPS Recognition Night is Monday, Nov. 5 at the Woolmarket Baptist Church. Individuals interested should come to the next meeting.

Mary Schmidt, Hancock Medical Center, will speak at the next meeting. Members are asked to bring a friend or former TOPS member.

Persons interested in losing weight the sensible way and keeping it off, are invited to join. The chapter meets every Tuesday at the Waveland Public Library on Coleman Avenue. Weigh-ins are from 6 to 6:30 p.m., and the meeting begins immediately following weigh-ins.

'Round we go

Medical Assistants

Coast Counties Medical Assistants hosted a wine tasting membership social at Garden Park Community Hospital Oct. 17 in honor of National Medical Assistants Week.

Wine, cheese and door prizes made for a festive event. A membership display table made AAMA membership and certification information readily available to all attending.

Lynn Gutterman, CMA, chapter president, and Ann Larkin, CMA-A, alternate delegate for the Mississippi Society, attended the AAMA 34th annual convention in Los Angeles from Oct. 5-10.

State Senator Victor Frankiewicz was the keynote speaker for the chapter's Oct. 18 meeting at Belle River Recipes in Biloxi.

Coast Counties will meet on Nov. 15 at 6:30 p.m. at Belle River Recipes in Biloxi. Officers and board members for 1991 will be elected at that time. There will also be a white elephant sale (silent auction) and discussions of upcoming programs, education and projects. For the November meeting each person attending is asked to bring a canned food or staple item for donation to the needy in our area.

All allied health personnel, educators and medical assistant students are invited to attend. For more information concerning the meeting or membership contact Lynn Gutterman, CMA at 832-8061 or 832-8220, or any chapter member.

American Legion
Post 77 Auxiliary

The Southern Area American Legion Auxiliary Conference will be Oct. 27 and 28 at the Howard Johnson Hotel in Biloxi. A highlight of the conference will be a leadership training program given by Keet Peetz.

The general meeting for the auxiliary begins at 9 a.m. on Oct. 28. Volunteers have finished preparations for the annual children's Halloween party to be held in the Post Hall October 31 from 5 to 11 p.m.

All members are asked not to forget the Oktoberfest on Nov. 3, from 5 to 11 p.m. Children are welcome.

Once again the question of the legality of bingo is in limbo. Until the state Supreme Court rules on the bingo issue, the Tuesday morning bingo games will continue.

All members who plan to attend the Nov. 6 meeting are asked to bring a can or box of food to help those in need.

Be sure to vote Nov. 6.

Pass Christian Garden Club

The Pass Christian Garden Club will meet Thursday, Nov. 1 at 11 a.m. at the Hancock Bank Annex, Scenic Drive, Pass Christian.

The program "PAL," People Against Litter, an affiliate of "Keep America Beautiful," will feature guest speaker Roy F. Stainaker, state coordinator for PAL, who is retired from the U. S. Forest Service.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Harvey Blakenship and Mrs. R. Parrell McKay.

On Nov. 2 at 10 a.m., Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs will meet at the Hancock Bank Civic Center in Pass Christian. For further information, call Mrs. Warren L. Schulz, president, at 452-4092.

Hamlet is generally considered to be the ultimate test of a classical actor, requiring athletic skills as well as the ability to speak some of the most beautiful poetry ever written.

One of America's most popular movie stars is also one of our greatest classical actors: Kevin Kline takes on the role of the Prince of Denmark in Shakespeare's great tragedy of revenge in a modern dress production, which he co-directs with Kirk Browning. "Hamlet" airs on "Great Performances" Friday, Nov. 2 at 9 p.m. on Mississippi ETV.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Byrd-Delcuze

Main Street United Methodist Church was the setting for the September 29 afternoon marriage of Kimberly Ann Delcuze and Jon Paul Byrd.

The Reverend Van Carpenter officiated. Nuptial music was presented by soloists Lee Delcuze and Mary Howard and pianist/organist Jeannie Smith.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Delcuze of Bay St. Louis. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Bergeron of Bay St. Louis and the late Ronald Byrd.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of white satin with fitted bodice adorned with embroidered lace and seed pearls. The puffed sleeves tapered to fitted wrists and were inset with medallions of beaded lace. Her cathedral train featured lace insertions encrusted with pearls and was outlined with scalloped lace. A bow accented the back waistline.

Her veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a free-form pearled headpiece. She carried a rubrum lily cluster and white bridal roses accented with Australian heather and bear grass. Shelley Delcuze attended as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Melanie Delcuze, Tammy Ladner and Sherri Carver. Jordan Delcuze was flower girl.

The attendants were identically attired in tea length gowns of fuchsia taffeta and carried free-form clusters of fuchsia mini-carnations, blue iris, rosario alstroemeria, Australian heather, statice and baby's breath.

The flower girl wore a light pink taffeta dress and carried a white basket of rose petals.

Brennan Delcuze escorted the flower girl, while Kyle Delcuze was ring bearer.

Rodney Hinkle was best man. Groomsmen were Scot Delcuze, Andy Buehler and Joey Everett.

Serving as ushers were Tim Delcuze and Doug Power.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Hancock County Civic Center.

The couple resides in Bay St. Louis.

MR. AND MRS. JON PAUL BYRD

Manguno-Williamson

The wedding of Miss Eva Louise Williamson and Mr. Vincent Charles Manguno Jr. was solemnized October 19 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in New Orleans, La.

The Reverend Frank Berner officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Williamson of Diamondhead. The groom is the son of Mrs. Frank Trapani of Metairie, La. and the late Mr. V. C. Manguno.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of pale ivory satepeau with a portrait neckline, fitted basque bodice applied with Alencon lace, encrusted with seed pearls and puffed sleeves set off with long satin gloves.

The back of the gown was closed with tiny buttons, and the dropped waist gave way to a full circular skirt and chapel-length train.

She wore a tiara headpiece of sculptured matching lace with attached filament-edged waltz-length veil of illusion.

She carried a cascade of sophia roses, white orchids, lilies, baby's breath and English ivy.

A reception followed the ceremony at Stonebridge Golf and Country Club in Gretna, La.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will reside in Kenner, La.

Almost every hospital has the staff and facilities to safely deliver a normal, healthy baby providing there are no complications. Then, only the very best will do.

Slidell Memorial was the first hospital in St. Tammany to build a Neonatal Intensive Care Unit, and today, we're still the largest in the area and the only local hospital with two full-time Neonatologists, a High Risk Follow-up Clinic and our own Neonatal Transport Team.

YOU ARE REQUIRED TO MAIL OR HAND DELIVER A WRITTEN RESPONSE TO THE COMPLAINT FILED AGAINST YOU IN THIS ACTION TO HON. ROBBIE K. ASHER, Attorney for Plaintiff, at address is 140 Main Street, P.O. Box 534, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

INVITATION FOR BIDS
The Diamondhead Water & Sewer District will receive bids for a Wastewater Treatment Facility, SRF - Project No. C2808-01 until 7:00 p.m., Central Standard Time, on the 11th day of November, 1990, at 5300 Diamondhead Circle, Diamondhead Community Center, Bay St. Louis, MS, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. Bids should be addressed and delivered to Diamondhead Water & Sewer District, 100 Construction Rd., Suite B, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520, with a notation on the lower left hand corner of the envelope, "BIDS ON WASTE WATER TREATMENT FACILITY - PROJECT NO. 9001".

DESCRIPTION OF WORK: Construction of a 1.25 MGD Wastewater Treatment Facility including two (2) oxidation ditches, headworks, ultra-violet disinfection, sludge drying beds, administration building, along with equipment and miscellaneous items necessary to complete the work. Included in this project are eight (8) off-site lift stations, and mitigation earthwork.

CONTRACT DOCUMENTS: Including drawings and technical specifications, are on file for review at the offices of Diamondhead Water & Sewer District, 100 Construction Rd., Suite B, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Duke Levy & Associates, 107 N. Main Street, Big Sandy, Texas 75755; Jackson Minority Business Development Center, 5285 Calais Drive, Suite A, Jackson, MS 39208 (601) 362-2250; and (3) New Orleans Minority Business Development Center, 1440 Canal Street, Suite 1619, New Orleans, LA 70112 (504) 520-7157.

COPIES OF THE CONTRACT DOCUMENTS may be obtained by depositing $25.00 (non-refundable) with Duke Levy & Associates for each set of documents obtained.

A CERTIFIED CHECK OR BANK DRAFT, payable to the Diamondhead Water & Sewer District, negotiable U.S. Government Bonds (at par value) or a satisfactory Bid Bond executed by the bidder and an acceptable surety in an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the total bid shall be submitted with each bid.

THIS PROJECT IS to be funded with a loan from the State Revolving Fund Loan Program and all applicable State and Federal regulations regarding construction contracts will apply.

The final award, and the Notice to Proceed is contingent upon release of funds from the State of Mississippi. A Pre-Bid Conference will be held at 10:30 a.m. on the 22nd day of November 1990 at the Diamondhead Community Center. All interested bidders are encouraged to attend.

Any contract or contracts awarded under this invitation for bids are expected to be funded in part by a loan from the State Revolving Fund Loan Program. Neither the United States nor any of its departments, agencies, or employees is or will be a party to this invitation for bids or any resulting contract. This procurement will be subject to regulations contained in Section III, Appendix D of the SRF Loan Program Regulations.

LEGAL NOTICE
Order Closing the Commercial King Mackerel Season in Mississippi
The Mississippi Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks, under the provisions of 54-15-15 of the Mississippi Code of 1972, annotated; order that the commercial king mackerel season, in waters under the territorial jurisdiction of the State of Mississippi, shall close at midnight, on Saturday, the 27th day of October, 1990. It shall be unlawful for commercial fishermen to possess king mackerel during this closed season. Additionally, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, offer for sale, barter or trade king mackerel during this closed season. The latter prohibition shall not apply to king mackerel commercially harvested, landed and banded, and sold, prior to the closure and held in cold storage by a licensed seafood dealer or processor. This closure shall remain in effect until July 1, 1991; at which time the commercial season for king mackerel in waters under the territorial jurisdiction of the State of Mississippi shall reopen.

All current rules, regulations and ordinances of the Mississippi Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks shall remain in effect and be strictly enforced. Ordered this 25th day of October, 1990.

Posters and paraphernalia

The Hancock County Lion's Club sponsored an anti-drug poster contest at the Gulfview and St. Clare Elementary Schools. First place winner April Trahan, fourth grade student at Gulfview, receives a $10 check from president Eula Rome. Also pictured is second place winner Jason Sick, third grade student at St. Clare, who received a $5 check for his work. Helping in the award presentation is drug awareness committee chairman Raymond Rome. Lion's member Joyce Bermond and Hancock County Sheriff Department representative Kevin Fayard display various illegal substances and means of usage in background. International high IQ society marks 30th anniversary in U.S.

Mensa was founded at Oxford University in Great Britain in 1946. Two English barristers envisioned a society that would bring highly intelligent people together to help solve the world's problems. American Mensa was founded 14 years later in New York.

Today, Mensa's purposes may not focus on solving all of the world's problems, but they do include the identification and fostering of human intelligence for the benefit of humanity; to encourage research in the nature, characteristics and uses of intelligence; and, to provide a stimulating intellectual and social environment for its members.

The first two of these purposes are largely carried out by the American Mensa Education and Research Foundation (MERF). The latter is accomplished through monthly meetings held at 147 local chapters in all 50 states and by forming or joining special interest groups (SIGs).

The local chapter of Mensa encompasses the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Monthly meetings are held on the second Saturday evening of each month, usually in Gulfport. The 53 members live as far west as Ansley, as far east as Pascagoula and north to Hattiesburg.

Meetings are very informal, and occasionally guest speakers make presentations to the group followed by lively discussions.

Each year a national convention is scheduled at various locations, and Mensans from all parts of the country attend.

Three days packed with lectures, seminars, discussion groups, workshops and social get-togethers comprise the annual gathering which is organized around a selected topic or theme. About 50 regional gatherings are also held each year.

To celebrate Mensa's 30th anniversary, the local group has decided that each member will actively promote the benefits of belonging to Mensa by encouraging at least one person to become a member—the goal being to increase active membership, thus enabling a more didactic group.
